a. Conflict of interest exists if a commissioner might derive some private benefit as the result of a Commission action. The private benefit may be direct or indirect, create a material personal gain or provide an advantage to relatives, friends or groups and associations which hold some share of a person's loyalty. Mere membership in a group or organization shall not be considered a conflict of interest in and of itself. However if membership, or participation, in such a group or association would lead a reasonable person to conclude that such membership would prevent an objective consideration of a particular matter the Commission should consider the possibility and make a determination prior to discussion or action.

b. State law requires that a public official experiencing a conflict of interest declare the conflict publicly. A commissioner with a conflict shall abstain from voting on the action in question and leave the room during consideration of the action and vote. The commissioner should not discuss the matter privately with any other commissioner.

c. If any member of the Commission has reasonable cause to believe another member has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, they shall inform the Chair of the basis for such a belief. The Chair shall then inform all members of the commission and afford the member an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose. If after hearing the member's response, and making further investigation when warranted by the circumstances, the Commission determines that the member has failed to disclose an actual conflict of interest it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

2. Gifts and Favors. Gifts, favors or advantages must not be accepted if they are offered because the receiver holds a position of public responsibility. The best rule to follow regarding gifts and favors is, in cases of doubt, refuse.

3. Treatment of Information. Reports and official records of the Commission must be open on an equal basis. It is important to distinguish between information that belongs to the public and information that does not.

a. Information should not be furnished to some unless it is available to all.

- b. Information or private affairs learned in the course of performing duties must be treated in confidence. Private affairs become public affairs when an official action, such as a change in zone classification or approval of a plat, is requested. Only then is a disclosure of relevant information proper.
- c. Partisan information on any application received by a commissioner, whether by mail, telephone, or other communication should be made part of the public record.
- 4. Political Activity. Membership in a political party and contributions to its finances or activities are matters of individual choice and should neither be required of, nor prohibited to commissioners.
 - a. The extent of participation in political activities should be governed by prudent judgment as well as limited by an applicable civil service law or regulations.
 - b. The special position of a commissioner should not be used to obtain contributions or support for a political party and should not favor partisan interests.

D. Ex Parte Contact. Ex Parte is a Latin term meaning "From a one-sided or partisan point of view." Although a member of the legislative body may gather information from many sources to augment his/her decision-making role, this activity is limited for an administrative body, such as a planning commission.

- 1. Prearranged private meetings between a commissioner and applicants, their agents, or other interested parties are prohibited.
- 2. There will be occasions when a commissioner will be contacted by an applicant whose issue is on the agenda for a forthcoming meeting. The contact may be an innocent desire to provide information, or a less than innocent attempt to influence the commissioner's decision. In either case, the commissioner should inform the applicant that a commissioner is not at liberty to discuss the matter - or inform the applicant that any information received by the commissioner must be shared with all at the public meeting, before deliberation on the issue.
- 3. Disclosure is also expected from a commissioner who might uncover additional information or insight by personal observation. The commissioner should bring this information to the meeting and present it during the discussion.

E. Other Conduct. Expression of bias, prejudice or individual opinions on matters coming to the Commission for consideration prior to hearings and determination of action is prohibited.

F. Disciplinary Action. Members of the Commission may, after a hearing, be removed by the Town Council for neglect of duty or malfeasance.

Section 2.03.110 Conduct of Persons before the Commission

A. Regular meetings of the Commission will be conducted according to Roberts Rules of Order. Members of the public attending these meetings are expected to remain silent, unless specifically invited by the Chair to speak. However, an equitable opportunity to be heard is an essential part of procedural due process. The Commission Chair shall be attentive to those circumstances when interested persons should be given an opportunity to supply evidence to support their position.

B. Members of the public have an obligation to remain in civil order.

1. The Chair should assure that participants are aware that a public meeting is called and conducted in an orderly manner to accept pertinent points of view, dispense information and assure that the public interest is balanced with individual rights.
2. Any conduct which interferes with the equitable rights of another to provide comments or which interferes with the proper education of Commission affairs may be ruled by the Chair to be “out of order” and the offending person requested to remain silent.
3. If a person persists in uncontrolled emotional or disorderly conduct the Chair should firmly request said person to leave the meeting. If said person refuses to leave he may be escorted out or law enforcement may be summoned.

C. Public Clamor. A strongly expressed protest or demand, typically from a large number of people.

1. The Commission should be prepared to manage any breach of decorum which might arise during its meetings.
2. Members of the Commission should resist the potential of becoming unduly influenced by persuasive, but irrational comments or actions.
3. A “straw vote” of attendees should not be taken as a true representation of the entire community.

Section 2.03.120 Form and Character of Motions

A. Upon review of the public record on a request and due deliberation among the members of the Commission, any member of the Commission, except the Chair, may make a motion. The motion shall include not only the direction of the motion (table, continue for further investigation, return to referring body for further study, approval, approval with conditions, or denial), but also a recitation of the specific findings and conclusions supporting each motion.

B. A second shall be required for each motion (a motion shall die in absence of a second).

C. Discussion and amendments on the motion may then follow.

D. Reconsider a motion. Reconsidering a motion enables a majority in an assembly, to bring back for further consideration a motion which has already been voted on. The purpose of reconsidering a vote is to permit correction of hasty, ill-advised, or erroneous action, or to take into account added information or a changed situation that has developed since the taking of the vote. It can be made only by a member who voted with the prevailing side.

The Notice of Violation shall be dated and shall state the name of the alleged violator, the address of the violation, the date(s) of the violation, the Town laws or ordinances believed to have been violated, the steps the violator must take to cure the violation, the steps the Town may take to enforce the law or ordinance allegedly violated, the penalties and fees that may be imposed if the violation is not corrected, a date by which the violation must be corrected to avoid imposition of penalties and enforcement action, and procedures by which the alleged violator may request an administrative hearing as described below.

Section 2.09.040 Service of Notice

The Notice of Violation and other notices required or contemplated by this ordinance, shall be hand-delivered to the alleged violator or posted in a conspicuous place on the affected property or mailed by U.S. Mail with delivery tracking. A person who receives a Notice of Violation has a right to an administrative hearing. To receive a hearing, the alleged violator must request a hearing in writing. The request for hearing must be received by the Town before the end of the tenth business day after the person's receipt of, or posting or publication of, the Notice of Violation. If no written request for hearing is received by the Town within this time, the allegation in the Notice of Violation will be deemed by the Town to be true and to be the final administrative order of the Town on the matter, the right to administrative appeal will be waived, and penalties and enforcement measures will be imposed.

Section 2.09.060 Administrative Hearing

A. Within 45 days of receiving a written request for hearing, the Town shall hold an administrative hearing. C. The hearing shall be a public meeting. The hearing shall be recorded or otherwise documented so that a true and correct transcript may be made of its proceedings.

D. Both the Town and the alleged violator shall have the opportunity to speak and to call witnesses at the hearing. The Hearing Officer may allow competent evidence and documents to be introduced at the hearing without observance of formal rules of evidence or procedure. Each side shall be allowed to question and cross-examine witnesses. Each side may be represented by an attorney, but if the alleged violator is to be represented by an attorney, that attorney shall contact the Town attorney at least two business days prior to the hearing.

E. The Town shall bear the burden of proof to establish the existence of a violation. Such proof shall be established by a preponderance of the evidence.

F. At the conclusion of the hearing, or within five business days thereafter, the Hearing Officer shall issue a written order. The order shall find that the violation has or has not occurred. If the order finds that the violation has not occurred, the proceeding shall be dismissed. If the order finds that the violation has occurred, the order may impose penalties as provided in this or other Town ordinances. The order may also direct the violator to cease and desist from the violation, and may direct the Town to abate the violation on its own as necessary. The order may give interim or temporary directives as necessary, and may also embody agreements the two sides may make before, during or after the hearing.

Section 2.09.070 Penalties and Fees

If the order issued after the administrative hearing finds that a violation has occurred, or if no hearing was requested, the Town may impose penalties as specified in the law or ordinance found violated. In the absence of another applicable penalty provision, the Town may impose a penalty not to exceed the maximum fine for a class C misdemeanor under Utah law per day of violation. In addition, the violator shall be assessed and required to pay all costs actually incurred by the Town in abating and enforcing the law or ordinance in the case, and in holding the administrative hearing, if one was held, including but not limited to inspection costs, filing fees, title searches, equipment costs, attorney fees and Hearing Officer fees.

Section 2.09.080 Abatement

If the order issued after the administrative hearing finds that a violation has occurred, or if no hearing was requested, the Town shall have authority to take reasonable measures to abate the violation as specified in the order or Notice of Violation, including entering onto the property at the site of the violation and physically abating the violation.

Section 2.09.090 Emergency Abatement

Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed to prohibit the Town from taking emergency measures to immediately abate a violation when preservation of the life, safety or health of the public requires immediate action.

Section 2.09.100 Recordation

The Town may record the order issued by the Hearing Officer, or, if no hearing was requested, the Notice of Violation, with the County Recorder, indexed to the property (if any) at which the violation occurred. If an order or notice is so recorded, and the violation is thereafter abated and the property comes into compliance, the Town shall file with the County Recorder a notice of compliance retracting the stated violation within 30 days of the violation coming into compliance.

Section 2.09.110 Appeals
